MR. AND MRS. CRUMP HONOR PRETTY VISITING GIRLS

Two pretty visiting girls who have been enjoying unusual popularity will be the honorees at a most enjoyable affair at the Country club on Saturday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Dabney Crump will entertain with a dinner-dance in special compliment to their lovely young visiting nieces, the Misses Elizabeth and Crenshaw Walker, of St. Louis.

Covers will be laid for 60 on an elegantly appointed table, having a large circular center. A rose pink color theme will be most effectively carried out in the decorations, a profusion of lovely Premier and Russell roses being artistically arranged in a very large center basket, with similar baskets down the length of the table to the two ends, having smaller baskets of pink buds grouped gracefully around them. While a rosy glow will be cast over the board by the rose colored tapers burning in silver candlesticks. Decorative bonbons in silver compartments will add to the charming effect and at the places will be rose-colored loving cups, holding salted nuts. The places of the guests will be marked by hand-painted cards in keeping with the rose motif, which will be repeated in many of the delicious courses of the menu.

For the evening Mrs. Crump, who is always a very charming hostess, will be gowned in two-toned rose and gold taffeta, draped in tulle of the same shade, with lace garniture, and the two attractive young guests will also be beautifully gowned for the occasion.

Mr. Herbert Richardson will receive with Miss Crenshaw Walker, who will be gowned in Celeste blue velvet and silver lace, and Mr. Garretts will receive with Miss Elizabeth Walker, who will wear velvet in a deep rose shade embroidered in gold beads.

Following the serving of the menu the guests will enjoy dancing until a late hour.

MISS RUTH RENKERT TENDERS BRIDGE PARTY FOR HER SISTER

Miss Maude Renkert, who has been one of the season's most popular brides-elect, was complimented on Saturday afternoon by her sister, Miss Ruth Renkert, who tendered a bridge party in their home on South Belvedere boulevard.

For the occasion large bowls of roses and luxuriant growing ferns were artistically arranged about the room, where the card game was enjoyed. Lovely prizes were awarded to the fortunate contestants in the game, after which a dainty menu was served.

LITTLE MISS KNIPMEYER HONOREE AT BOX PARTY

Little Miss Grace Elizabeth Knipmeyer was the honoree at a box party given by her mother, Mrs. A. B. Knipmeyer, at the Orpheum theater on Friday afternoon, to celebrate her tenth birthday anniversary.

The little honoree, to receive her 13 little friends, wore a frock of canary crepe, fashioned in accordion pleats. During the performance bonbons in artistic boxes were presented to the guests.

Chapter Demobilizes Flag With Impressive Service

With Impressive Service

A large audience, deeply appreciative of the solemnity and the speed of the occasion, heard the program which had been arranged by Mrs. Mary Hunter Miller, for the service held on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by members of the Commodore Perry chapter, when their service flag was demobilized with appropriate ceremonies.

The occasion was marked by inspiring patriotic addresses, beautiful music and the pledge of loyalty to the United States by the young men in the families of the chapter members entered the world war in the defense of home and country and bore the folds of which sleep the five heroic young soldiers represented by the gold stars on the service flag.

The exquisite rendition by Miss Elsa Gerber of that most impressive of war poems, "In Flanders Field," in a musical setting, was a fitting prelude to the demobilization of the gold stars.

The solemnity of that feature was brought out by Chopin's funeral march, played by Miss Sarah Phillips. During the reading of the names of the five soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice, those present stood and in the interval following each name, the audience sang in a silent meditation with bowed heads.

The reading, with much feeling, of that wonderful ode to the flag, "Your Flag and My Flag," by Miss Dorothy Mathews, was made more effective in its patriotic inspiration by the chanting of "America," the national hymn, by a quartet, those in the audience joining in singing the last stanza, which was followed by the sounding of taps, which brought the program to a close.

The complete program was as follows:

Rugle Call—William Ramsey. Invocation—Mrs. Mary M. Hubbard, chapter chairman.

Greetings—Mrs. Charles B. Bryan, chapter regent.

Address—"Our Volunteer State," Miss Cora Henry Ashe, chapter historian.

Quartet—"On to the Field of Glory," Misses Henry Mitchell, David Clark, Harry M. Woodson and Miss Van Dyke Cleage. Mrs. Carroll Smith, accompanist.

At 10:30 o'clock in room C, Chamber of Commerce.

Reports from the Mothers' congress will be given and the president urges a full attendance.

FASHION SHOP FAILS.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed Friday in the United States district court by the Fashion Shop, doing business at 216 South Main street. The petition was filed by Attorney Hanover. Liabilities were listed at $21,863.73 and assets at $1,250. General business depression and the tight money market is given as the reason.

"IT WAS LIKE THIS, JUDGE—"

Robert Calloway, charged with violating the liquor law, was fined $50 in city court Friday and bound to the state on testimony of the arresting officer, who stated that he captured more than 50 gallons of good white corn whiskey.

Jack Stanley, charged with carrying a pistol and assault, was fined $50 on the first charge and bound to the state. The second charge was dismissed.

In raids carried on Thursday night by the "purity squad" of Memphis detectives, six members of the A. I. G. Field minstrels, were caught. Five of them failed to appear, losing the entire $50 they had put up for their appearance, but the sixth, George Hogan, decided to face the music. He appeared and was fined $10. He got the $40 back.

J. W. Wilkins and Mrs. Catherine Carpenter, charged with being in a house of ill-fame, were caught in city court. Wilkins was fined only $15, while Mrs. Carpenter drew a $50 fine.

Archie Shanklin, charged with assault with a knife on Birdie Johnson, was dismissed. Birdie, charged with theft of a dress from Archie, also was dismissed.

W. A. Waters, charged with larceny of several pairs of gloves, was bound to the state on testimony of the arresting officer.

Sacred Concerts At Goodwyn Institute To Begin December 5

To Begin December 5

Following up the successes of last season in presenting each Sunday afternoon at the Goodwyn institute a sacred concert of good music, the music committee of the Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of E. R. Harrow, chairman, will undertake to reach even greater pinnacles during the present winter. The public last winter appeared very appreciative and lent hearty co-operation, which encourages belief that the three months' series during December, January and February, will mean further progress in the development of musical culture and understanding.

The first concert will be given on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 5, at 3 o'clock, and it will be as a special memorial to the late O. K. Houck, who was the most valuable master of the musical community in the city during the years of his local career. None did more to develop music here and he was everybody's friend, so it is designated to make the program especially fitting to his memory which is cherished so keenly by the members of every organization. The program will be announced in a few days.

(On the Sunday following the large chorus choir of Calvary Episcopal, under the direction of Adolph Steinman, will furnish the program when they will sing the wonderful oratorio "Stabat Mater," which they
